(Huntington Beach, CA, December 18, 2015) For the third straight year, California Faucets is the proud recipient of the coveted Interior Design Best of Year (BoY) Awards. This year, the Corsano™ Culinary Pull-Out Kitchen Faucet, part of the company’s newly launched line of kitchen products, was recognized in the highly competitive kitchen fittings and fixtures category. Corsano was one of 1,800 entries judged by nearly 60,000 professionals in the architecture and design industry.

This year’s celebration marked the tenth anniversary of the prestigious award competition. The ceremony took place in New York City at the state-of-the-art Frank Gehry-designed IAC Building on December 3, 2015. The auditorium was standing room only as the winners were announced live by Interior Design hosts Cindy Allen, editor-in-chief, and Carol Cisco, publisher.

since this year marks the launch of our long-awaited kitchen faucet collection,” states California Faucets President and CEO Jeff Silverstein. “For the past 27 years we’ve been known for our quality craftsmanship and customization in bath faucets, and we’re thrilled that the design community has quickly recognized the innovation of our first foray into kitchen faucets,” says Silverstein.

The Corsano Culinary Pull-Out Kitchen Faucet combines Italian design with California craftsmanship. It features a uniquely flexible stainless steel spring, which gives Corsano bold, professional styling that’s more streamlined than other semi-professional faucets. What’s more, Corsano offers an industry first: the ability to color the spring in any of the company’s 15 PVD finishes. Like all the faucets in The Kitchen Collection by California Faucets, Corsano offers easy one-button toggling between spray modes as well as the ability to customize with a myriad of handle styles and a choice selection of more than 30 artisan finishes.

Before this month’s win, California Faucets received the BoY award in 2014 for ZeroDrain® “pop-down” sink drain; in 2013 for StyleDrain® Tile—a drain that allows the inlay of matching tile; in 2010 for CeraLine® channel drain; and also received a merit award in 2009 for its groundbreaking StyleDrain®, which was the industry’s first ever decorative drain and created the now popular luxury drain category. “We are both gratified and humbled by the design and architecture community’s consistent recognition of our innovative product line,” Silverstein adds.

The Corsano Culinary Pull-Out Kitchen Faucet starts at $978.
