Five customizable models offer design flexibility with a wide choice of distinctive handle style options and decorative finishes

(Huntington Beach, CA, July 17, 2018)

California Faucets expands its Kitchen Collection with a versatile new line of Pot Fillers. Perfectly coordinating with existing Kitchen Collection ensembles, the Pot Fillers offer users an extra element of luxury and convenience. Sculptural and ergonomic, the Pot Fillers feature the same Italian-inspired design and California craftsmanship as the original Kitchen Collection. Also distinguishing the line extension is a large array of customizable handle options and finishes, making California Faucets one of only a few manufacturers to offer such a vast selection.

"Rather than a one-size-fits-all design approach, we took the next step with our Pot Fillers," says Jeff Silverstein, President and CEO of California Faucets. "The ability to mix and match a large variety of handle styles and finishes gives designers and homeowners the opportunity to create a completely customized look in the kitchen,” explains Silverstein, adding that the extensive variety means consumers can typically find a California Faucets Pot Filler to coordinate with their existing standard kitchen faucet, if need be.

Two solid and robust faucet bodies, one contemporary in style and one more traditional, anchor the Pot Filler series. Each body comes with an array of handles to choose from. The 37 handle options include everything from delicate levers with sweeping s-curves and ornate crystals to substantial, yet sleek stick and blade designs. Each Pot Filler is made of the highest quality solid brass and contains no plastic parts. Plus, each features a secure and sturdy wall-mounting system that installs with ease.

After selecting the faucet body and handle style, designers and homeowners get to choose any one of the available 30-plus artisan finishes, which includes 15 PVD finishes with a lifetime guarantee against tarnishing. And like all California Faucets kitchen and
