and Real Simple, the new-to-the-scene products are the next biggest thing in kitchen and bath design. With a striking contemporary cantilever and a unique squeeze handle design, La Spezia is a standout among fellow honorees that include a soaking tub, a smart cooktop, smokers, and modular outdoor cabinetry.

The La Spezia pull-down kitchen faucet brings a semi-professional feel to luxury kitchens, with its squeeze handle sprayer elegantly integrated into the spout for ease of use without subtracting from the crisp, modern design.

"A sleek silhouette and cantilever handle give the fixture a contemporary look," Beautiful Kitchens & Baths editors said, "while dual-function (aerated or spray-by-squeezing) jets and an easy pulldown spout ensure it's hardworking."

The faucet's sprayhead is insulated to protect against scalding. It has a proprietary docking system to keep it in place and a quiet polymer-braided hose with rotating joint for smooth and non-binding use.

"From its clean aesthetic to pro-level performance, La Spezia brings that little something special to homeowners and designers alike," says California Faucets Chief Marketing Officer, Noah Taft. "We are truly honored to be recognized by the editors at Beautiful Kitchens & Baths and the publisher of the most eminent titles in the home and design category."

Another notable feature that designers love, La Spezia offers a complete collection of accessories. Perfectly coordinated bar faucets, pot fillers, soap dispenser, hot- and cold-water faucets, appliance pulls, cabinet pulls, and knobs echo the faucet's sleek and minimal silhouette, infusing a sense of modern luxury throughout the entire kitchen.

La Spezia is made of solid brass and has a ceramic disc cartridge. It measures 18-3/4" tall, with a 9-5/16" spout center to center. More than 25 artisan finishes are available, including PVD finishes that are guaranteed not to tarnish.
