California Faucets Debuts the COTO™ Series—the Company's First Outdoor Kitchen Faucet Collection

Marine-grade stainless steel construction meets sophisticated design in a customizable, artisan-made kitchen collection built for the great outdoors

California Faucets introduces the durable-yet-stylish COTO™ Series, the company's first foray into outdoor kitchen faucets

(Huntington Beach, CA, July 29, 2025) California Faucets brings its award-winning design sensibility outside with the COTO™ Series, the company's first foray into the outdoor kitchen faucet category. Named for Orange County California's Coto de Caza, a community set among rolling hills where outdoor living is celebrated year-round, the collection marries rugged performance with refined aesthetics. Crafted from ultra-durable stainless steel, the series features a statuesque spout, four distinct handle options, and seven artisan finishes, which include the industry's first extra-strong PVD (Physical Vapor Deposition) finishes on an outdoor faucet. The COTO Series offers the flexibility to personalize outdoor as well as indoor kitchens, making it the perfect finishing touch to any culinary space.

While keeping style and expression at the forefront, the COTO Series is strong enough to stand up to the elements. Marine-grade 316 stainless steel means the collection won't be affected by extreme temperatures, moisture, or corrosion. Without sacrificing design for durability, the design's sculptural presence and customizable features make it a sophisticated choice for high-end kitchens inside and out.

"The COTO Series is like the outdoor faucet equivalent of a superhero," says Noah Taft, California Faucets Chief Marketing Officer. "It has the strength and toughness to fight off the elements, and it does so with style—albeit without the cape," Taft quips.

Designers and homeowners can express their vision through COTO's four unique handle designs: the Textured Paddle blends ergonomics and function, the Quad Blade represents modern minimalism at its best, the Appliance Knob is a nod to gourmet stoves, and the Dotted Knob is a playful take on "industrial chic." Two spout options (high or low) and an optional pull-down sprayer allow further customization. A suite of coordinated stainless steel accessories including a soap dispenser, combo and cold-water dispensers, and a garbage disposal air switch complete the look.

Like all California Faucets products, each COTO kitchen faucet is custom-made and hand-finished at the company's Huntington Beach factory. Finishes include Matte Black, Satin Stainless Steel, Bella Terra Bronze, Lifetime Satin Gold (PVD), Satin Bronze (PVD), Graphite (PVD) and Satin Brass (PVD). The PVD options add an extra layer of protection against the elements, ensuring the faucet maintains its beauty year after year.
