California Faucets Brings a Transitional Touch to the San Elijo® Series Faucet

A new gracefully curved spout introduces softness and warmth
—especially when paired with optional Teak Wood handles

California Faucets' San Elijo® Series bath faucet features a gently rounded spout for a touch of transitional style

(Huntington Beach, CA, November 13, 2025) California Faucets adds a fresh, transitional twist to its customizable San Elijo® Series with the debut of a new high-arc spout. Featuring a smooth, gently rounded profile, the design softens the overall look of the bath while maintaining the collection's clean, contemporary lines. When paired with optional Teak Wood lever or cross handles, the solid brass San Elijo brings a natural sense of warmth and organic texture to the bath. And with a full range of coordinating bath faucets, tub fillers, shower controls, and accessories, the San Elijo Series allows this refined transitional aesthetic to flow seamlessly throughout the bath.

"We wanted to create a design that feels refined, yet relatable. San Elijo's new high-arc spout captures that balance—merging clean modern lines with transitional warmth in a fresh, unexpected way."

—Jeff Silverstein, California Faucet's Head of Product & Brand

The San Elijo Series offers limitless possibilities for personalization. In addition to the new gracefully curved high-arc spout, the collection includes a shorter, more contemporary "ribbon" style faucet with a flatter profile. It's also available in single-hole and wall-mounted versions. Each design can be paired with lever or cross handles and finished in any of California Faucets' 25-plus artisan finishes, including ultra-durable PVD finishes that resist tarnishing. For a distinctive touch, Teak Wood—a material renowned for its exceptional durability and water-resistance—is a custom option for both handle styles, infusing the bath with an inviting sense of organic warmth. Hand-finished by skilled artisans, each San Elijo faucet and tub filler makes a one-of-a-kind sculptural statement.

To complete the look, the collection includes a full suite of coordinating accessories crafted from the same high-quality solid brass, including tub faucets, tub fillers, shower controls, bidet sets, slide bars, grab bars and more, allowing designers and homeowners to carry San Elijo's unique look throughout the entire bath.

List pricing for the San Elijo Series 8" widespread faucet with Quad Arc Spout begins at $1,275 for Polished Chrome finish.
