California Faucets Introduces a Comprehensive Decorative Hardware Collection for Perfectly Coordinated Luxury Interiors

New all-brass decorative hardware collection delivers perfectly matched finishes for beautifully cohesive luxury kitchens and baths

(Huntington Beach, CA, July 15, 2026) California Faucets introduces an expansive decorative hardware collection that extends the company's signature craftsmanship and artisan finishes to virtually every touchpoint in the kitchen and bath. Designed to solve one of interior design's most persistent challenges—achieving a perfect finish match between faucets and cabinet hardware—the collection gives designers and homeowners a comprehensive new way to create beautifully cohesive spaces.

California Faucets' expansive new decorative hardware collection delivers perfectly matched finishes for beautifully cohesive spaces

Spanning styles from traditional and transitional to contemporary and industrial, the collection allows designers and homeowners to carry a consistent design language throughout an entire space. Rather than settling for “close enough” finishes from multiple manufacturers, they can now specify cabinet and appliance hardware that perfectly matches the company's faucets, shower fittings, and accessories for a refined, intentional aesthetic from every angle.

“Hardware has become one of the defining details in today's luxury interiors, and our goal has always been to give designers complete creative freedom. By extending our hardware offerings across a broad range of styles, textures, and sizes, we've made it possible to achieve a perfectly coordinated look without compromising creative freedom. Designers no longer have to choose between the hardware they love and finishes that truly match—they can have both.”

—Jeff Silverstein, California Faucet's Head of Product & Brand

Building on California Faucets' established hardware offerings, the new series dramatically expand the collection's design vocabulary. The collection encompasses seven new designs, ranging from the classical Elsinore™ and transitional Chabot™ to the contemporary Cachuma™ and the minimalist Shasta™. Together with the company's existing collections, they create one of the industry's most versatile decorative hardware portfolios for luxury kitchens and baths.

Precision-made from solid brass, the expansive collection includes cabinet pulls, appliance pulls, knobs, cup pulls, edge pulls, and backplates in a wide variety of sizes to suit virtually any application. Available in more than 26 artisan finishes, including durable PVD finishes guaranteed against tarnishing, many designs feature optional textures such as smooth, knurled, pinstriped, and hammered, giving designers even greater freedom to create depth, contrast, and visual continuity throughout any space. Hammered textures, in particular, pair especially well with the growing popularity of hammered sinks, tubs, and coordinating California Faucets fixtures such as the Jalama® bath collection.

Like every California Faucets product, each piece of hardware is hand-finished by skilled artisans in the company's Huntington Beach factory, reflecting the company's “From Our Hands to Your Home®” philosophy.

As decorative hardware continues to play a more prominent role in luxury interiors, designers increasingly expect every detail to work together—from faucets and fixtures to cabinetry and appliances. With a broader portfolio of handcrafted hardware available in perfectly coordinated finishes, California Faucets empowers designers to carry a unified design vision throughout the kitchen and bath, backed by the craftsmanship, customization, and finish consistency that define the brand.
